

Friday 11th September 2009

Dear VME User,

The AXiS Committee would like to remind you about the 2009 Axis Conference for VME users. This is a fantastic opportunity to meet with other IT professionals who share similar experiences and face similar challenges in the world of VME. A booking form is attached.

The event will be held over 2 days at the luxurious Crewe Hall in Cheshire which is well served by major road and rail networks. The conference will commence on the afternoon of the 13th October and will include two sessions by senior Fujitsu personnel presenting on Super Nova status quo and product strategy. The day will conclude with a drinks reception and the chance to meet and talk with Fujitsu management as well as many prominent VME vendors and developers. It will be followed by a gala banquet in the renowned and spectacular Jacobean Grand Hall.

The packed and informative programme will include:

- ✓ Update from Fujitsu on product development and strategy with VME.
- ✓ Super Nova / Users experience, Royal London/Tom Hardicre chairs open forum debate
- ✓ Richard Hollis, who was a popular speaker at last years event, will be returning to discuss another key aspect of Security.
- ✓ Super Nova / John King of Gresham
- ✓ There will be vendor sessions outlining developments in the wider IT arena
- ✓ Modernisation - An evolution not revolution plus a Green IT session, Blue Phoenix
- ✓ Hybrid Mail Systems / IDS
- ✓ The seventh step towards reaching the cloud / Microfocus
- ✓ Labelling plus a session on MasterKey / Boldon James
- ✓ Data Integration (from back office to back pocket!) / NDL
- ✓ A number of VME users will update the Conference with their experiences with superNOVA and VME and this will be followed by an open user forum.
- ✓ Data Capture (pen to corporate database in one move!) / Iain Pickering
- ✓ And of course the invaluable opportunity to network with other VME users over the breaks

In order to book a place at this year's event, please visit the Axis website: <http://www.axis.org.uk>

The cost per attendee is great value at £150 (plus VAT) covering both days (including banquet, overnight accommodation and full breakfast in Crewe Hall, refreshments and the use of the many and extensive facilities (pool, golf, keep fit, sauna, etc. etc).

Please contact us on 01424-838829 if you have any questions or email Conference-2009@Axis.org.uk.

AXiS will be delighted to welcome you at Crewe Hall this October!

AXIS

Axis 2009

13 - 14th October 2009

Crewe Hall, Cheshire

The Axis 2009 event will have an exciting new format in response to feedback from Axis members.

A great opportunity to meet fellow VME users and discuss VME strategy and solutions. The venue will be at the breath-taking Jacobean manor house Crewe Hall in Cheshire. Known for it's elaborate decor and glorious architecture, this is a fantastic backdrop to our conference. Attendees will have full use of all of the facilities at Crewe Hall, including the swimming pool, spa and fitness centre. In addition, attendance will include a banquet in the Jacobean Grand Hall.

The event will cover an afternoon and morning.

We look forward to seeing you in the autumn.

Harold Cloutt
